Co-producers WORLD Channel and American Documentary announce the U.S. broadcast premiere of PERSONAL STATEMENT on WORLD and PBS Tuesday, October 23, 2018 at 8 p.m.

"Inspirational and moving, heartwarming and heartbreaking, PERSONAL STATEMENT is a testament to the power of knowledge and the ability to lead with a dream." – American Film Institute (AFI)

August 20, 2018 – (New York, NY) – American Documentary, Inc. and WORLD Channel announce the TV premiere of PERSONAL STATEMENT, a new film by Juliane Dressner and co-director, Edwin Martinez. The documentary will broadcast on WORLD Channel and PBS as a co-presentation of the award-winning series America ReFramed and Latino Public Broadcasting.

PERSONAL STATEMENT follows three inspirational teens in Brooklyn who take it upon themselves to make a difference by becoming peer college counselors in their schools. They are high school seniors who are fighting to defy the odds not only for themselves but for every single one of their classmates. They have decided to become the very resource they don’t have themselves.

In the heart of Brooklyn, New York, Karoline Jimenez, Christine Rodriguez and Enoch Jemmott aspire to become the first generation in their families to attend and graduate college. But, like so many public school students throughout the country, their under-resourced schools don’t have enough college guidance support. That is why Karoline, Christine and Enoch have decided to do their part to close the college guidance gap. PERSONAL STATEMENT is an observational film that follows them through their senior year as they struggle to get themselves and their peers to college. The film’s narrative weaves their individual struggles, family life and their respective college application and admission processes.

“In the film we see that the very people who are affected by a problem are in fact the ones who are best situated to solve it. This lesson could not be more timely as communities throughout the country, many of which Karoline, Christine and Enoch represent, including immigrants, members of the LGBT community, and low income people of color, are struggling to fight for their rights. When systems fail us, we must work collectively to resolve our own problems, and Karoline, Christine and Enoch show us how it’s done,” said Juliane Dressner in an interview with AFI.

"Latino Public Broadcasting (LPB) is very pleased to co-present this important film," said Sandie Viquez Pedlow, Executive Director of LPB. "By shining a light on the challenges faced by so many students of color, PERSONAL STATEMENT reminds viewers that a pathway to higher education should be available to all students, regardless of where they live or what school they attend. The young peer counselors featured in the film are an inspiration and hopefully the film will encourage other schools to adopt similar programs."

“PERSONAL STATEMENT is an important film that honors the contributions and dreams young people have for themselves and for the country,” adds
Carmen L. Vicencio, America ReFramed’s Series Producer.

“I am very excited that the public media family is supporting the premiere of PERSONAL STATEMENT, a film that highlights the agency and leadership of dedicated youth peer counselors. PERSONAL STATEMENT will reach public television audiences just as students across the country are working in real-time on their own college application essays and forms,” says Chris Hastings, Executive Producer & Editorial Manager for WORLD Channel at WGBH Boston.

Produced by Reify Films and Hazel Pictures, PERSONAL STATEMENT will be presented on-air and on-line in collaboration with WGBH’s WORLD Channel and American Documentary Inc. for America ReFramed in association with Latino Public Broadcasting (LPB). Major funding has been provided by the Corporation for Public Broadcasting’s American Graduate initiative with additional support provided by Chasing the Dream: Poverty and Opportunity in America, a public media initiative from WNET in New York.

PERSONAL STATEMENT will make its U.S. broadcast premiere on Tuesday, October 23, 2018 on WORLD Channel and PBS (check local listings). Free online streaming will begin on October 24th on worldchannel.org and all station-branded PBS platforms including PBS.org, and on PBS apps for iOS, Android, Roku, Apple TV, Amazon Fire TV and Chromecast.

About Chasing the Dream
Chasing the Dream is WNET’s multi-platform public media initiative on poverty and opportunity in America. It aims to provide a deeper understanding of the impact of poverty on American society: what life is like below the poverty line and for the working poor, its impact on our economic security, and the solutions. Chasing the Dream reports can be found on air and at http://www.pbs.org/chasingthefrom.

About American Graduate
Since 2011, the public media initiative American Graduate, made possible by the Corporation for Public Broadcasting (CPB), has grown into one of the largest public media collaborations across the country with over 125 local public media organizations, and national television and radio producers and distributors, working with more than 1,700 community partners. National and local reporting, public forums and town halls, and education resources drove awareness and discussions among leaders, educators, students and concerned citizens, and inspired adults to become an American Graduate Champion for the nation’s youth. Stations played an important role helping communities address the challenges and highlight local solutions to the dropout crisis, and the national graduation rate is now at an unprecedented 84.1 percent. In 2018, together with 19 stations, CPB launched the initiative’s next phase to partner with schools and businesses and help prepare students with the skill sets and training needed to be part of the new work force, especially for high-demand fields.
